ALUMNI VOICE

Er. Daniel Justus,
Civil (2008-2012)
Pursuing MBA
Carnegie Mellon
University, United States.

As the first Generation graduate, I built my career, exposure, and dreams in MCET days. I vividly remember rainy day I walked into the campus meeting people from different parts of the state. Through technical and practical sessions, the Civil Engineering department helped me to develop as a holistic engineer. I also spent countless hours with my faculties and Dean Dr. Ranga Palanisamy perceiving their experiences. I also collaborated in campus-wide initiatives, as a member of SGS & clubs. Leveraging all those experiences, I have been in IIT Delhi, L&T, and now as an MBA ward at Carnegie Mellon. Looking back, as someone from rural India who never had any background to succeed, I significantly contribute my success to every mentor I had at MCET. I am forever grateful to my alma mater.
